

A Waltz Through History Workshop

March 23 and 30 @ 10:00AM – 12:00PM

Come experience local history like never before!

A Waltz Through History workshop will be presented by Paul Kabakjian on Saturdays March 23 and 30 from 10:00am to 12:00pm.

You'll spend four hours over the course of these two days learning about the history of Atglen and its surrounding boroughs.

This workshop will take you through this unique part of Chester County, where you will learn about the origin of town names, early settlers, and how our past shapes our present.

The workshop will end with a walking tour in the final session. Space is limited; to register, please visit atglenpubliclibrary.org or call 610-593-6848.

Paul Kabakjian worked with the Pennsylvania Historic Preservation helping to identify sites of historical significance in Pennsylvania and the U.S. He worked with Valley Forge, Gettysburg, Brandywine Battlefield, and Fort Mifflin to outline battlefields and troop movements. He has investigated local history in the Octorara Valley and discovered that Atglen was at the crossroads that helped forge a nation.

Atglen Public Library
413 Valley Avenue, PO Box 190
Atglen, PA 19310
610-593-6848
AtglenPublicLibrary.org